

WILLIMANTIC

NORWICH BULLETIN
Willimantic Office
21 Church Street Telephone 1023

The last performance at the scenic theatre was given Tuesday evening by the Pot family and Willimantic is now minus one more picture house.

The building was erected by the First Spiritualist Society in 1908 and was used by that organization until several years later when it was closed on account of the small membership. It was leased in 1908 to John F. Hurley and John R. Pickett for a moving picture house and since that time has been conducted in a successful manner by various proprietors.

The Pot family of 21 High street have conducted the place for over six years and are leaving the theatre as the result of litigation with the owners. On Wednesday the work of removing the fixtures and furnishings belonging to the Pot family was being done by carpenters and all that is now left standing are the folding seats.

The scenic theatre was well patronized and its going will be regretted by many. It is of interest to note that the scenic theatre was the third moving picture house to start in Willimantic. The first regular house was opened by Harry W. Gale in the Kimball block in the store now occupied by John T. Ashton and the second place was the Elite in the west store of the Chamber of Commerce building now occupied by the Grand Union Tea company. James F. Clune, now deceased, was the proprietor of the second house which was started in the early part of 1908.

A hearty enjoyed Christmas celebration was held by Boy Scout troops Nos. 2, 3 and 4, Wednesday evening, at which a delightful program was rendered. Each scout brought as his guest some youngster under ten years of age and a gift awaited all comers.

There was plenty of singing and music during the evening and the scout band, under the direction of Bandmaster Wheeler rendered its full program of newly selected pieces. The Glee club under the direction of Mrs. Michael J. Farrell rendered several Christmas carols and an appetizing lunch was served by the Ladies' Catholic Welfare Council.

A large number of parents and friends of the scouts attended the festivities which were held in St. Joseph's hall on Jackson street.

A long session of police court was held Wednesday morning when the continued cases of Peter Gounack and John Stenechuck, charged with violent assault on Keema Dubina, were heard. Dubina testified that he was attacked by an iron weight wielded by Stenechuck and that Gounack held his arms. He dealt using a knife in defense.

Bess Lapan and Dennis Haggerty, who stopped the fight, stated that Stenechuck appeared to be the aggressor. They said that they saw no knife but found the weight in Gounack's pocket. Stenechuck said that he had previously been threatened with a knife by Dubina who had persisted in insulting him for the past two years, but that Dubina did not use a knife during the fight. Stenechuck said that he carried the iron weight in self defense and wielded it because he feared the knife which Dubina said he would use when he attacked him.

Gounack testified that he was a friend of Stenechuck and that he later handed the weight over to him after the first blow had been struck and offered to fight Dubina a square but Dubina pulled a knife again and chased Stenechuck around the street. Three fellow employees testified that Dubina was always insulting Stenechuck by calling him names and that it was left in the hands of Judge Foss who thought that Gounack was not to blame but that Dubina and Stenechuck were both to blame for fighting and he fined the latter $10 and costs amounting to $20.35.

Abraham Fuch was charged in the police court with issuing and passing a fraudulent check on July 22, 1922 drawn on the Willimantic Trust Company and paying to H. J. Helling, cashier, an amount of the check was for $13.30. Fuch stated that he saw it at his market and grocery business to Joseph Kennedy and that the transaction was held up due to attachment. He had raised what he thought was enough money to pay off his debts when he made out the check but when it was presented some time later there was no money there. The court, however, demanded that a plea be made and Fuch pleaded guilty to the charge. The case was then continued until Saturday to give time to get in touch with the Kennedy family in regard to a settlement which Fuch said he was willing to make.

Fire broke out Wednesday noon in a room of paper stored in the cellar of the Hall & Bill Printing Company on North street. The cause was given as spontaneous combustion. Engine Company No. 1 and Truck Company No. 1 made a quick response to the alarm, which was rung in from Box 34. Three lines of hose were played on the blaze and by hard fighting the fireman soon had the blaze under control, although they were greatly hampered by volumes of smoke which filled every entrance to the cellar. The recall sounded at 1:30 o'clock and shortly after the employees resumed work.

The Society of Sons of Israel of this city made plans on May 14 of this year for the purchase of the scenic theatre from the First Spiritualist Society to be used as a synagogue. The purchase was delayed on account of the legal difficulties of the Spiritualist Society with the lessees of the theatre over an alleged sale of the building to the lessees. The trouble is now overcome and the Sons of Israel Society made the announcement Wednesday that they will take the building over in a few days and will begin extensive alterations to transform the theatre into a synagogue.

The structure is to be completely renovated in the interior and a complete new floor will be made to correspond with the general architecture for synagogues. A concrete sidewalk is to be laid and the surrounding land beautified. The improvements will amount to close to $3,000.

The big event of the season took place Wednesday evening at the State Armory on Pleasant street when the Alumni of Windham High school held an informal reunion and banquet at the building.

The hall was handsomely decorated and boxes were provided for the seating of the various classes. A cap and gown were worn by the students and was present. Before the dancing a high class programme which was heartily enjoyed was rendered.

The quartet, consisting of Maurice Wallen, graduate of the Windham High school, tenor; Raymond Grant, second tenor; Charles Beach, baritone; Harry Coe, alto; and Robert Kellogg, accompanist, rendered the following programme: Bedouin Song (Footh), by the quartet; Invictus (Footh), by Mr. Beach; This is She (Footh), by the quartet; Harmony (O'Hara), Musical Trust (Hedley), by the quartet; The Phantom Legion (Ward-Stevens), by Mr. Wallen; What From Vengeance, sextet from Lela Donahue, by the quartet.

Remarks on the spirit of the reunion were then given by Allen B. Lincoln. Next was the interpretation of music through dances by Miss Esther Gustafson of Pomfret, and a graduate of the Windham High school of the class of 1911. Miss Gustafson has been most successful in dancing in London throughout New England. Remarks were made by Louis Lincoln, graduate from the class of 1896 and he was introduced as the man who has been known to be without a good joke and not to smile at the worst life can offer. The closing number of the programme was the singing of one of the songs of the Alma Mater by one of the alumni.

Much credit is due to the entertainment committee of which George W. Hickey is chairman. In procuring these feature entertainers, the reunion was a success beyond all expectations and all indications lead to the fact that it will be continued in future years. The various classes also wish to take this means for thanking the committees for the untiring efforts in making the reunion such a successful event.

Mary Garden Reduces—And Finds Fountain Of Youth

Mary Garden, who recently returned from a trip abroad has two reasons for rejoicing, first, and to her, foremost, she has reduced to a svelte-like figure weighing only 115 pounds—and secondly she claims to have discovered the fountain of youth for which Ponce de Leon searched so madly in Florida. It was up in Zermatt, Switzerland, that she found and bathed in this wonderful fountain. She claims she feels better and younger than ever.

Word has been received in Westerly of the death of Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of Washington, D. C. He was the son of the late Frederick A. Crafts, of Westerly, and was born at Fryeburg, Me. January 12, 1850. His father moved to Westerly in 1873 and was for three years pastor of the Grace Methodist church on High street.

Dr. M. H. Scanlon of High street was called to the station of the New Haven road Tuesday evening to attend Max Teichman, 4301 Ballymore avenue, Baltimore, Md. Teichman was taken suddenly ill with an attack of acute indigestion on the train en route from Baltimore to Westerly. He was 61 years old and was employed in the Garrett building in Baltimore, Md., as they reside near the seashore, for even in the winter season both these little places have nothing on them so far as ice and snow goes this winter. Both Mystic and Stonington thus far have been practically bare ground, while towns to the north at Hope Valley and just above North Stonington, people are using creepers to get along on the ice and snow-covered places. Those who have occasion to travel through here are indeed surprised to behold the green grass and mud-covered streets. Autoists certainly thought they were in London Tuesday night because of the heavy fog which caused it to be dangerous for them to proceed very fast, for there was a heavy blanket of snow, one of the heaviest that has been noted here for many years. The constant blowing of whistles off Watch Hill and the foghorn all along the shore showed it was anything but a pleasant night at sea.

The funeral services of Mrs. Harry Mitchell were held at her home on Pearl street at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. J. C. Osborne, pastor of the Union Baptist church, officiated. The floral tributes were handsome and numerous. The bearers were Fred Duerr, William Craig, William Hanley, Harold Ashby, John Flynn and Edward Flynn. Interment was in Elm Grove cemetery.

The $9,000 mortgage on the Odd Fellows' building was burned with impressive ceremonies at the regular meeting of Stonington lodge, No. 26, on Wednesday evening. The ceremony was attended by members of the lodge and members of the Rebekahs. A roast ham supper was served during the evening.

Flocks of wild geese have been reported flying north within the last few days. This is a sign of a warm winter, as the birds did not go south until late in the season, and their reappearance is welcomed by all who reside in Mystic and vicinity.

George Valencia of New York is stopping here. He is the nephew of Mrs. Alice Halloway. He is to enter Vermont Academy next week.

Bulleted thrill upon thrill right up to a smashing climax and then a finish of a most unusual nature, aptly describes, in the proverbial nutshell, the latest William S. Hart Paramount picture, which is the feature at the Broad theatre, Friday and Saturday. It concerns chiefly the mind struggles of two distinct types of men both coveting a golden woman who so fatefully is the wife of another man, a preacher of the word of God.
